Scene on a Cotton Plantation.

THE FIRST COTTON-GIN.—DRAWN BY WILLIAM L. SHEPPARD.—[SEE PAGE 314.]

Plantation Economy

The stairwell is classic in its simplicity. Tall visitors may have to duck their heads to avoid the overhang.

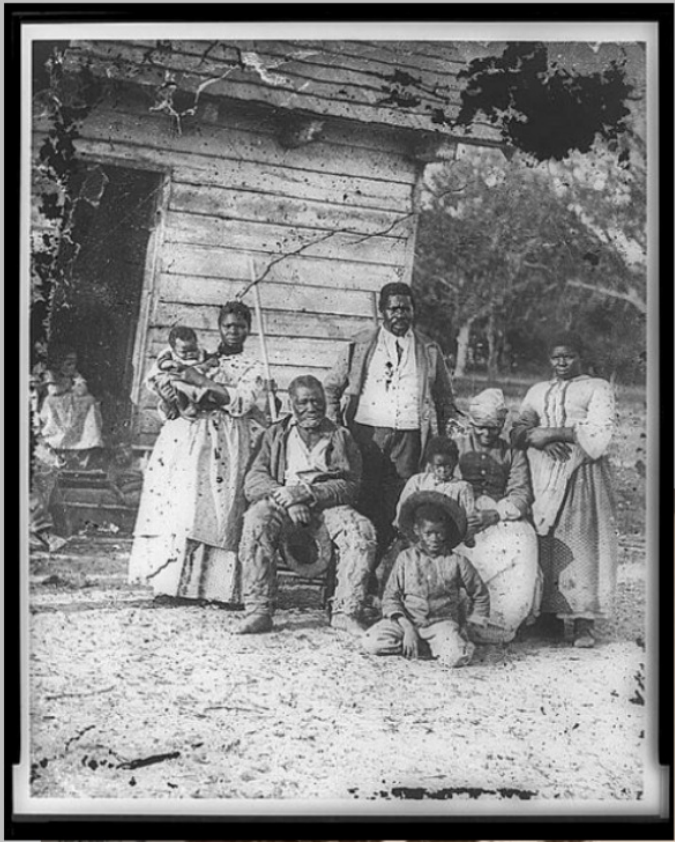

The living room is furnished almost exactly as it would have been two centuries ago, with the exception of a few modern pieces of art.

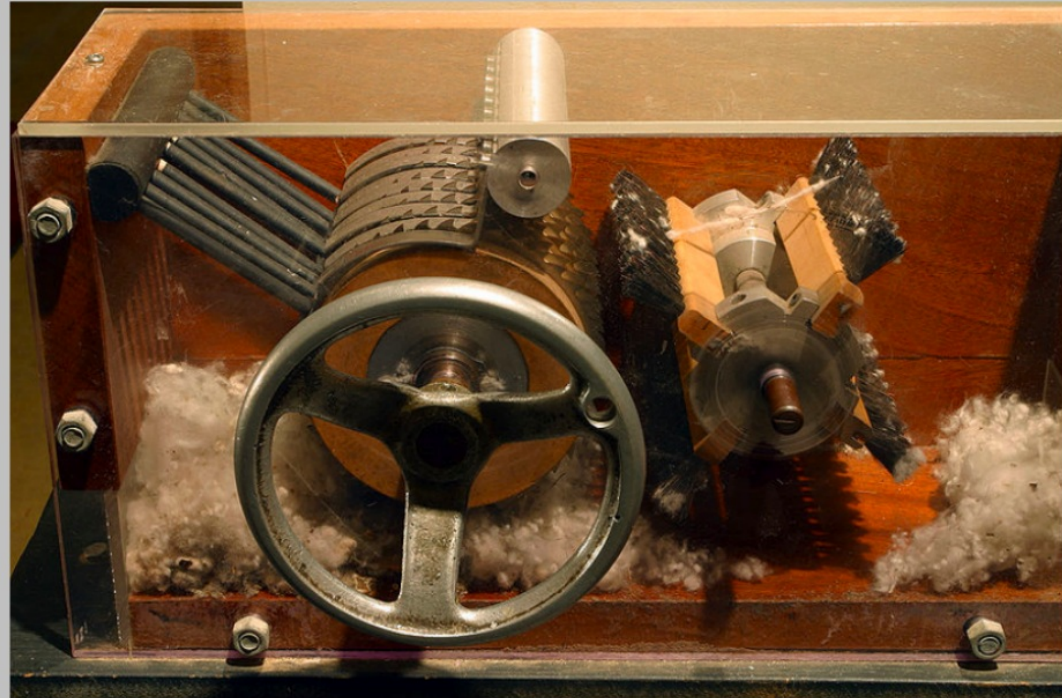

The dining room, set with vintage china and silver, is evidence that classic furnishings never go out of style. In the left foreground is a collection of Civil War toy soldiers.

The music room is home to a baby grand piano, a guitar and an antique hammered dulcimer.
